GENERAL NEWS.

New Breaks in the Louisiana Levees Reported.

TENSAS PARISH ENTIRELY SUBMERGED BY THE FLOOD.

The Water Subsiding at the Heads of all Rivers—Petitions for Sergeant Mason's Pardon Pouring Into Washington.

[illegible] steamers up the Yazoo river and its tributaries [illegible] of the Sunflower [illegible] and the Tallahatchie [illegible] as far as practicable [illegible] The crew are started out in the morning with a [illegible] the Head light is [illegible] The waters from the Mississippi are going over the levees [illegible] back water from the Yazoo [illegible] A large [illegible] caught [illegible] the other day and all the [illegible] drowned. The whirlpool [illegible] a church a few days ago in which several people with their stock had taken refuge. The church was in a few minutes torn to pieces, planks broke and carried away, the stock was drowned and the people floated around in the water for some hours but were finally rescued again after much trouble and danger. The vortex struck the residence and stable of a paralytic old farmer by the name of Jamieson and totally annihilated them. The old gentleman was drowned.

The Ship's Bayou Break.

NEW ORLEANS, March 20.—Persons coming from Tensas parish report every plantation under water or affected by it. There are eight breaks along the parish front. The most disastrous of these is at Ship's bayou which is now nearly a mile wide and water rushing through 40 feet deep, causing a rise of 10 inches every 24 hours. Ship's bayou break is between the upper and lower ends of Lake St. Joseph, which are near the river bank. When the break occurred the waters rushed through in such a volume it raised the water in the lake so rapidly it ran out the lower end to the river. The sands forming islands between the lake and river are low but quite rich. The whole islands are submerged, and the water in some places runs over the top of plantation cabins. Planters whose waters have encroached upon their lands drove their stock across the river to the hills on the Mississippi. Stock in the parish is light, and planters are hopeful as possible. If the water recedes by the first or middle of May they will be able to plant to a considerable extent. The overflow was earlier than usual and flooded the lands before plowing had begun. This will cause a delay of a week or two as plowing will have to be done as the water recedes. A letter written on the 17th from St. Joseph by the present police judge of Tensas parish, says: "I have just traveled 27 miles on the highest portions of this parish in a boat. On nearly every plantation negroes have been driven from their homes and taken refuge in the upper portions of their houses. The water from Ship's bayou break has washed away houses, fences and everything in its path. Backwater is higher here than ever before known. There is not a thousand acres of land out of water in the whole parish." Landry crevasse in Ascension parish is not closed but continues to widen. It is now reported to be 115 feet wide and the water backing up on lands in Ascension parish above the break and flooding the country below that, and in St. James parish. A portion of the Burnside plantation is under water. The final outlet for this water is through Lake Maurepas and thence into Lake Pontchartrain. There has been no rain in the Mississippi valley for the past week and the heads of all streams in Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana are reported falling. At New Orleans the river has scarcely varied an inch in a week, standing as now eight inches below the high water mark of 1874.

The Sunflower Valley Submerged.

VICKSBURG, March 21.—The basin of the Sunflower river, 200 by 40 miles and embracing six navigable streams, is entirely submerged. The population of the basin is over 100,000, and it is one of the best cotton districts in the south. Water in parts of the basin is encroaching upon house tops and people are escaping on rafts. At Gaines landing rations are only given out when the boat is hailed or when people are in actual need. So far there has been nowhere manifested a disposition to impose on the government in this mission of charity. Many a planter was found like Jamieson on the Gold Water. "Don't put off a pound at my place. I can get my people through this. They are safe upon the gin house, but there's lots of poor people above that will starve to death unless help gets to them." It's a matter of pride with the large planters to get along independently, and at the same time to care for their people as they form negro tenants. Some of them have to ask for a little help but only to tide them over until they can get supplies from Vicksburg. Another planter, Gen. W. Sean, refused to take anything in the way of supplies but begged for a newspaper, saying he would rather have a paper than a barrel of flour.

More Broken Levees.

VICKSBURG, March 21.—The levee at Leval's Pa[illegible] landing gave way last night and there is six feet of water in Ashwood levee in Tensas parish. The whole of the Hurricane Islands are now completely under water. Capt. Leathers expresses the opinion that in three days there will not be one acre of land visible in Tensas parish. Passengers say the levee at Milliken's cannot possibly hold out if there is any further rise in the river.

Lieut. Vedder, U. S. A., under instructions of the secretary of war left this morning for Monroe in a skiff and will visit Tallulah, Delhi, Floyd and Bastrop, and report the condition of the country and distress existing now from tributary streams of the Yazoo, Tallahatchie and Sunflower. There is a gloomy aspect of affairs. Cattle are receiving no attention, all efforts being made in the direction of saving horses.

At Yazoo City.

YAZOO CITY, March 21.—Water at this point is ninety-two feet above the 867 mark, rising one inch in the last twelve hours. It is likely to reach a maximum at midnight or to-morrow. Boats from above report water at a stand and excitement subsiding, but each steamer brings people and stock. A large part of the refugees are negroes and with a few exceptions are provided for by merchants and planters who have employed some to go to the hills to work, and as yet no suffering has occurred. Some have remained in town refusing to work but clamor for government rations. At this point very little assistance is needed at present. The overflowed business houses of this city have had scaffolds built in them and business continues in them. Yazoo has an extra police force day and night and with a few exceptions no cases of larceny or violation of law have occurred.

A New Break.

NEW ORLEANS, March 21.—The Backhorn break is at last half a mile wide and about ten feet deep. Water is spreading all over the country and people are on the tops of houses waiting to be removed. Jas. A. Stone and John B. Stone at Oswego rescued 60 people by means of a skiff. The reports telegraphed of the burning of the gin house of Garnier, near Backhorn and loss of 350 lives are incorrect.

River Stationary at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, March 21.—The river is stationary at a point 11 inches below the highest mark. It has rained steadily this evening but it is thought that it will not affect the river.

Crow Dog's Defense.

DEADWOOD, March 21.—Almost the entire day was occupied in the argument of Crow Dog's case upon the offer of the defense to place Pretty Camp, Crow Dog's wife, on the stand, the prosecution having resisted on the ground that a wife was not a competent witness for her husband. The defense refused to admit a marriage and Pretty Camp was examined voir dire and other testimony taken proving the marriage when the woman's evidence was excluded. Crow Dog testified with great particularity and with very amusing gesticulations and graphic illustrations. The substance of his evidence was that he with the woman and his children were riding in a wagon without a box. He was proceeding home from council lodge when his seat fell and the defendant changed places with his squaw and replaced the board. While so engaged Spotted Tail approached mounted with a pistol in his hand and when within fifteen feet of Crow Dog leveled the weapon and was in the act of firing when defendant seized deceased's rifle and shot him dead.

There had been ill feeling between Crow Dog and the deceased some time and when Spotted Tail approached the expression of his face and his manner greatly convinced Crow Dog that trouble was sought. The examination of the defendant will be resumed in the morning.

Want a New Party.

ATLANTA, March 21.—Leading independents of Georgia in caucus to-day formulated an address to the people urging the formation of a new party and calling for a mass meeting here of Georgia independents on June 1st.

More Sympathy for Mason.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 21.—The assembly has adopted a resolution that the president be asked to commute the punishment of Sergeant Mason to dismissal from the army.

The President's Position.

[illegible] president [illegible] pending bill [illegible] the exclusion [illegible] come to this country ought to be fixed at 20 years.

Baptist Meeting.

NEW YORK, March 21.—At the Baptist ministers' meeting yesterday there was a large audience. An address on "Aggressive Christian Work" was delivered by Rev. Dr. M. Arthur. The speaker expressed a decided objection against the Chinese bill recently passed by the senate and said that all who came to this country should be received with open arms and that the senators should be rebuked by Christian churches throughout the country. In all man, in the discussion that followed laid the blame on the shoulders of young women. Too many of them he said were allowed to read novels and go to balls. Another speaker remarked that too many ministers instead of preaching Christianity preached Grant and Conkling sermons.

Marshall Jewell and Dorsey.

CHICAGO, March 20.—Answering the letter of a friend regarding the story that Dorsey had never accounted to him about the expenses of the campaign of 1880 in Indiana, Marshall Jewell replied: "Your favor is at hand. I care little what the newspapers think about the conduct of the last campaign. I sent no money whatever to Dorsey in Indiana. I paid for a good many papers and other documents which he ordered for that state and sent a good many there on my own account. You say the papers charge that I have asked for no accounting for his Indiana expenses. That is true for I had nothing whatever to do with him. Having furnished him no money I ask for no explanations. Very truly yours, MARSHALL JEWELL."

The Omaha Strike Over.

OMAHA, March 21.—Relieving of the troops called here by the strike commenced this evening when two companies returned home. Four companies of U. S. troops return to Camp Sidney to-morrow morning. Grading was carried on with a full force and no threats or interruption. The Willow Springs distillery filled places of employes that struck with new men and the smelting works refused to take back such of the men as quit voluntarily and has reinforced day and night shifts with new men.

Incendiary Attempts.

LARAMIE, March 21.—An effort was made last night at about 12 o'clock to burn the Thornburgh house at this place. On Saturday night the old house of the Union Pacific R. R. Co. was burned and on Sunday night the supply store was destroyed by fire. It seems to be a well organized effort to destroy Union Pacific property, but the cause is known. Night watchmen are employed to detect the incendiaries, and if they are caught they will be severely punished.

Grant on Rosecrans.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Col. Thomas W. Nicol in an interview with the Journal says he had a conversation with Grant soon after Garfield was elected and Grant said there were two men Garfield should not [illegible] Hewitt and Rosecrans, particularly the latter whom Grant denounced as an untrustworthy [illegible]. He added: "And the man that Garfield [illegible] served as the reference of the president for his talk during the canvass."

A Report Denied.

NEW YORK, March 20.—The following telegram relates to a report that has been widely circulated: To F. B. Chapman, General Superintendent Mutual Union Telegraph Co.—Pay no attention to the report of our consolidation with the Western Union. You may be sure there is no truth whatever in it. GEO. WM. BALLOU.

Arthur's New York Appointments.

The Tribune this morning discusses the New York appointments made by the president yesterday and shows that they are all professional stalwarts, political hucksters and presidential makers.

An Important Decision.

CHICAGO, March 20.—Judge Gardner in superior court to-day decided that certificates of membership in the board of trade must be treated by courts as a property and hence subjected to levy to satisfy judgment of creditors and must be regarded as assets where members are bankrupt.

Killed by a Fall.

LYNCHBURG, Va., March 20.—At the sale of Montgomery White Sulphur Springs property to-day a hotel porch fell killing one man and seriously injuring twelve others.

Mastodon's Skeleton Found.

CHICAGO, March 21.—The skeleton of a mastodon was unearthed Saturday at Geneseo, Ills., but it was so badly decayed that it fell to pieces in being taken out. One tooth was three inches across.

Chinese Admirers.

Fifty-one officers and teachers in the Chinese Sunday school here united to-day in a petition to the president to veto the Chinese bill.

Desperadoes Arrested.

LITTLE ROCK, March 21.—The police to-night arrested three noted desperadoes—Walter Hammer, Bill Meyers and Bud McGinnis—who have been concerting a plan to rob an Iron Mountain train.

Working up a New Railroad.

BOSTON, March 21.—Judge McGuire of Dakota is endeavoring to interest capitalists in a projected Montana, Dakota and Nebraska road to run from Bozeman along the Big Horn mountains and through the Black Hills to connect with the Nebraska system.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Coming by Every Mail.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Letters and petitions and appeals bearing upon Sergeant Mason are coming to the president in every mail and are being arranged for reference to the secretary of war for report.

General Rosecrans Unwell.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—General Rosecrans is confined to his room to-day by threatened erysipelas in his wounded foot. He hopes to be at the capital by Wednesday to speak and vote on the Chinese bill.

Another Stalwart Appointment.

The vacancy in the pay corps of the army was filled to-day by the appointment from civil life of John C. Mulholland of Pennsylvania. It was a personal appointment of Don Cameron. Mitchell, his senatorial colleague was not even consulted in the matter.

A Government Railroad.

Senator Frye to-day introduced a bill to build a railroad between New York and Washington, work to begin soon, which shall carry mails between the two cities in 6½ hours, the rates of fare not to exceed five dollars. The road is to be first-class in every respect.

A Monster Petition Presented.

W. F. Dickson of Chicago waited upon the president to-day and presented a monster petition from citizens of Illinois for the executive to interfere in the case of Sergeant Mason. He was accompanied by Representatives Aldrich and Farwell. The president said he would consider the case.

CANADA.

A Minister Expresses his Opinion.

TORONTO, March 20.—Rev. W. B. Affeck in a sermon last night said it was a libel on justice that Sergeant Mason should be degraded and sent to prison for having discharged a rifle at the grinning assassin Guiteau. His remarks were applauded.

A Foul Announcement.

Chicago Tribune.

The [illegible] announcement is made that Scoville, Guiteau's brother-in-law and counsel, is about to start [illegible] assassin's case [illegible] independent [illegible] both parties pledged to support [illegible] nominated by either party. If this [illegible] that Mr. Scoville is either a crank or a man of vast assurance. There was a general disposition to regard his attempt to start an issue [illegible] he attempts to trade upon [illegible] the public as far as known [illegible] any other way.

Dressler [illegible] [illegible] the 16th of June in latitude 77 [illegible] where we landed [illegible] From there we [illegible] until the 14th of September [illegible] We sailed from there [illegible] on the 12th of September [illegible] a gale of wind and [illegible] two [illegible] boats [illegible] Nindermann, W. F. [illegible] Lee, H. H. Kaack [illegible] Dressler [illegible] My boat having weathered the gale [illegible] landed on the 16th inst. and after trying to get [illegible] for two days [illegible] abandoned the boat and waded to the beach carrying our arms, provisions and records [illegible] miles north and east of this place. We had all suffered somewhat from cold, exposure and three of our men were badly lamed, but having only four days provisions left, [illegible] reduced rations were forced to proceed to the southward Monday, September 19th; we left a pile of our effects near the beach erecting a long pole where will be found everything valuable, viz: chronometer, ship's log books for two years, tent, etc., which we were absolutely unable to carry. It took us 14 hours to make these 12 miles owing to disabled men and these two huts around a good place to stop awhile while I push forward Noros and Nindermann to get relief to us but last night we shot two reindeer which gives us abundance of food for the present and we have seen many more so that anxiety for the future is relieved. Since our three sick men can walk we shall resume our march for settlements on the Lena river.

Saturday, Sept. 24—8 A. M.—Our three lame men being now able to walk we are about to resume our journey with two days rations of deer meat and two days rations of pemmican and three pounds of tea.

GEO. W. DeLONG, Lieut. Commanding.

This paper is a copy of a note given to Kudunas and carried to Boukoff and given to me, and was the first intelligence I had of the first cutter.

GEO. MELVILLE, P. A. Engineer.

No. 6.—Arctic steamer Jeannette lost on the 13th of June. Landed on Siberia 25th of September or thereabouts. Want assistance to go for captain and doctor and nine other men.

WM. C. F. NINDERMAN,
LOUIS P. NOROS, Seamen U. S. N.

Reply in haste. Want food and clothing.

Copy of record No. 4 found in a hut by a Yakut hunter and given to me at upper Bolun.

GEO. W. MELVILLE, P. A. Engineer U. S. N.

Saturday, Oct. 1, 1881.—Fourteen of the officers and men of the U. S. arctic steamer Jeannette reached this hut Wednesday, September 28th, and having been forced to wait for the river to freeze over are proceeding to cross to the west side this morning on their journey to reach some settlement on the Lena river. We have two days provisions but having been fortunate enough thus far to get game for our pressing needs we have no fear for the future. Our party are all well except one man, Erickson—whose toes have been amputated in consequence of frost. Other records will be found in several huts on the east side of this river along which we have come from the northward.

GEO. W. DeLONG,
Lieut. U. S. N., Commanding Expedition.

I. A. Surgeon Ambler, Mr. J. J. Collins, W. F. Nindermann, H. Erickson, A. Gartz, W. Lee, L. P. Noros, G. P. Boyd, A. Dressler, H. H. Kaack, N. Iverson, A. H. Sam, Alexy.

Enclosure. Arctic expedition Camp [illegible] Bennett island, latitude 76, longitude 148 [illegible] Aug. 5, 1881.—To P. A. Engineer Geo. W. Melville, U. S. N.—Sir: We shall leave this island to-morrow steering our course (over ice or through water as the case may be) south magnetic. In event of [illegible] parting in our boat at any time after the start, you are hereby ordered to take command of the whale boat until such time as I relieve you from duty or assign you to some other. Every person under my command at this time who may be embarked in that boat at any time is under your charge and subject to your orders and you are to exercise all care and diligence for their preservation and safety of the boat. You will under all circumstances keep close to the boat in which I shall embark, but if unfortunately we become separated you will make your best way south until you make the coast of Siberia and follow it along to the westward as far as Lena river. This river is the destination of our party and without delay you will in case of separation ascend the Lena to a Russian settlement from which you can communicate or be forwarded with your party to some place of security and easy access. If the boat in which I am embarked be separated from the other boats you will at once place yourself under orders of Lieut. C. W. Chipp and so long as you may remain in his company obey such orders as he may give you. Very respectfully,

GEO. W. DeLONG,
Lieut. U. S. N., commanding Arctic expedition.

The above is a true copy of my orders.

ARIZONA.

The Earps Leaving the Country.

TUCSON, March 20.—Two of the Earp brothers and Doc Holliday arrived here to-night from Tombstone. Virgil Earp passed on to Colton with the remains of his brother Morgan who was assassinated Saturday night at Tombstone. A body of 16 armed men accompanied the brothers from Tombstone to Contention and six on to this place. There is no danger of their being molested here.

Another Victim of the Feud.

TUCSON, March 21.—The body of Frank Stillwell was found beside the railroad track not far from town this morning riddled with bullets and buckshot. He was seen at the depot last night on the arrival of the westbound train in company with Ike Clanton, one of the cowboy gang whom the Earp brothers had a desperate fight last fall at Tombstone. By that train arrived the Earp brothers escorting the body of Morgan Earp recently assassinated at Tombstone. Four of the party were seen to follow Stillwell down the track. Shots were heard soon after and the quartette did not return this morning. Four armed men [illegible] freight train [illegible] miles east of town. Deceased was a brother of the famous scout Texas Jack.

California Lumber Manufacture and Consumption.

The consumption of lumber in San Francisco is a good index of the amount of building in progress. In 1878 the largest quantity of lumber used in San Francisco in any one year was consumed, aggregating 113,000,000 feet. There was a decrease then until 1880 but last year there was a marked and important increase in the consumption, 95,[illegible] feet being used. While the demand for lumber revived during last year the prices have also materially increased. The lumber mills throughout the state are running to their full capacity to supply home and foreign demand. The value of the lumber product of California last year was about $2,500,000.

The redwood lumber of this state comes principally from the counties of Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino and Sonoma. Humboldt county supplies more than half of all the lumber manufactured in the state and Mendocino makes a good second. A small quantity of redwood lumber is cut in the Santa Cruz mountains. In Humboldt and Mendocino counties the vast redwood forests promise a supply of lumber for many years to come. As the trees near the ocean are cut down short railroads are built to penetrate the deep forests farther inland. The following statement shows the lumber output of the four principal lumber counties in 1881:

Del Norte, feet	1,441,78[illegible]
Humboldt	71,064,539
Mendocino	54,05[illegible]
Sonoma	5,915,987
Total	130,465,[illegible]

With a brisk demand and fair prices the prospects of the lumber dealers for the current year are promising.

TELEGRAPHIC SPARKS.

Oregon Railway and Navigation company stock was quoted at 137 yesterday in New York.

Frank Bridgestone, acting city clerk of Pueblo, Colorado, is a defaulter to the extent of $[illegible].

In the Star route case at Washington Monday counsel argued that the indictment should be quashed as improperly procured.

Water companies of London draw upon the [illegible] of the valley of the Thames for 130,000,000 gallons of water a day. The wells and springs over the [illegible] within the limits of the suburbs have been [illegible] percolation of sewage.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

[illegible]

Senate adjourned without reaching point of final action.

House.

Bills were introduced by Cassidy to compel survey of lands embraced within railroad subsidy limits. The bill sets forth that more than 5,000,000 acres of unsurveyed lands granted the Central Pacific, Union Pacific and Kansas Pacific railroad companies and these companies by failure to [illegible] survey to be made evade taxes [illegible] and withhold from states and territories in which they lie revenues to which they are justly entitled.

Kelley of Pennsylvania under instruction from the committee on ways and means moved to suspend rules and adopt a resolution making the tariff commission bill special order when the house shall next go into committee of the whole on the state of the union, and continue as the special order until disposed of and not to interfere with appropriation bills. Agreed to, yeas 119, nays 54.

Reed of Maine under instruction from the committee on judiciary moved to suspend rules and adopt a resolution making the Geneva award special order for the fourth Tuesday of March. A number of democrats opposed this and after some filibustering absent democrats were brought in and their excuses caused a good deal of merriment, except that of Clements that he had just been summoned to the bedside of his colleague Black, who was dying. All were excused.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

CALIFORNIA.

Arrested for Cruelty.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Captain Collins and Chief Mate McDonald of the ship Queenstown, from Antwerp to Wilmington, were arrested at Los Angeles for cruelty to seamen yesterday, one of whom it is alleged was allowed to drown with no effort at rescue. The second mate against whom are similar charges ran away. An examination is now in progress before the U. S. commissioner.

Notes from the Blockade.

TRUCKEE, March 20.—[illegible] Truckee is literally buried in snow [illegible] Smaller buildings are [illegible] plied up [illegible] street [illegible] The snow plow which was fast in drifts at Cold Stream has been released. There are about 300 men at work at tunnel 13 clearing away snow [illegible] As far as can be ascertained there are no drifts [illegible] The [illegible] under the management of Conductor [illegible] has had a very hard fight with the elements. They have been snowed in [illegible] a number of times and a dispatch just received states that they have [illegible] the track again between Blue Cañon and tunnel 11. This may delay the opening of the road a few hours longer. The eastbound passenger train is still held at Colfax and the westbound is on its way from Reno and will reach this place about 4 P. M. A plow with several engines started east from here yesterday afternoon but when it reached Prosser creek about 7 miles from this place it got stalled in the snow and was not released until this morning. Railroad men all say that this has been by far the hardest storm they ever had to contend with. The wind blew so strong that it would drift snow on the track as fast as they could plow it out. A plow with six engines will start west from here and go ahead of the passenger train coming from the east. Warm weather to-day makes the snow settle very fast and renders it more difficult to handle, while it increases the danger of breaking sheds and causing snowslides. Every precaution is being taken by the railroad company to prevent disasters from that source.

Murder and Suicide.

At St. Helena this morning Wm. J[illegible] shot and killed J. C. Weinberger and immediately committed suicide by shooting himself. Cause of the trouble is unknown.

Fell from a Train.

OAKLAND, March 21.—Samuel Parsons fell from a train this morning and was killed. Deceased was an old man. He was found under the trestle across the estuary with his head in the mud. It is surmised that he fell from the train this morning. He was a peddler of knickknacks, a member of the Knights of Honor and a Mason.

The Blockade Over.

EMIGRANT GAP, March 21.—Plow No. 8 with six engines arrived last night after successfully battling with the blockade between [illegible] and Truckee, releasing plow No. 2 with ten engines, they having been buried for forty hours.

Mining Items.

BODIE, March 21.—The Standard mill crushed during the week 1167 ounces of bullion. [illegible]

Wrestling Match at Bodie.

BODIE, March 21.—A wrestling match, Greco-Roman style, with three falls, for $200 a side and gate money took place yesterday between Jas. Lascoe and H. C. Bell. Bell got the first fall in less than five minutes. No other fall was obtained during the entire evening. In the early part of the evening Lascoe [illegible] Bell [illegible] stated it was [illegible] fall [illegible] awarded [illegible].

NEVADA.

Virginia City Notes.

VIRGINIA CITY, March 20.—The weather is clear and cold. The snow blockade on the Virginia and Truckee railroad has been raised and a train left for Reno this evening at the usual hour. Snowslides yesterday broke the flume of the water company in four places between here and Washoe valley. Owing to a scarcity of water in the [illegible] yesterday and to-day run by steam. Breaks in the flume will be repaired to-night and a full supply of water [illegible] The California mail reached here Sunday morning at ten o'clock.

GARFIELD AND ROSECRANS.

Text of the Letter to Secretary Chase—A Just Criticism of Rosecrans' Slowness and Delay.

[illegible]

[illegible] greatly troubled [illegible] I will say [illegible] that it would [illegible] the highest [illegible] [illegible] to draw sharply upon the rebels [illegible] Mississippi [illegible] east. They began [illegible] about the middle of May they began quietly to draw away [illegible] The army had [illegible] war was [illegible] I was the only one who urged upon the general the imperative necessity of striking a blow at once, while Bragg was weaker and we stronger than ever before. I wrote a careful review of the opinions of the generals and exhibited the facts and [illegible] against Bragg's 41,000, allowing the most liberal estimates of his force. This paper was drawn up on the 9th of June. After its presentation and a full canvassing of the situation an advance was agreed upon, but it was delayed through a whole month [illegible] when it was begun and ended with what results you know. [illegible] of the movement was not only vindicated but the seventeen dissenting generals were compelled to confess that if the movement had been made ten days earlier while the weather was propitious the army of Bragg would in all human probability no longer exist. I shall never cease to regret the sad delay with [illegible] great opportunity to inflict a mortal blow upon the center of the rebellion. The work of expelling Bragg from middle Tennessee occupied nine days and on 4th July he was leaving his troops in a most disheartened and demoralized condition, while our army with a loss of less than one thousand men was in a few days fuller of potential fight than ever before.

On the 25th [illegible] the bridges were rebuilt and the cars were in full communication from the Cumberland to the Tennessee. I have since then urged with all the earnestness I possess a rapid advance while Bragg's army was shattered and under cover and before Johnson and he could effect a junction. Thus far the general has been singularly disinclined to grasp the situation with a strong hand and make the advantage his own. I write this with more sorrow than I can tell you for I love every bone in his body and next to my desire to see the rebellion blasted is my anxiety to see him blessed. But even the breadth of my love is not sufficient to cover this almost fatal delay. My personal relations with General Rosecrans are all that I could desire. Officially I share his counsels and responsibilities even more than I desire, but I beg you to know that this delay is against my judgment and my every wish. I cannot [illegible] I would rather command a battalion that would follow and follow as I strike [illegible] But the general and myself believe [illegible] my present place [illegible] division [illegible] I am aware that it is a position [illegible] If this [illegible] continues I shall ask to be relieved and sent somewhere where I can be part of a working army.

But I hope that you will soon hear that this splendid army is at last trying to do its part in the great work.

If the war department has not always been just it has certainly been very indulgent to this army, but I feel that [illegible] no plea to see this army back from the most vigorous activity.

I do hope that no hopes of peace or submission on the part of the rebels will lead the government to delay the draft and vigorous prosecution of the war. [illegible] Let the nation now display the majesty of its power and the work will be speedily ended.

I hope you will pardon this lengthy letter but I wanted you to know how the case stands and I was unwilling to have you think me satisfied with the delays here. With kindest regards, I am ever your friend,

J. A. GARFIELD.

LONDON, March 21.—A dispatch from [illegible] Dalmatia says that insurgents captured a large provision train between Mostar and Nevesinje.

Opposed to the Cloture.

At a meeting of the Irish party of the house of commons it was decided to introduce a bill amending the land act, dealing with Healy's clause in order to set aside the limitation recently imposed by decision in the Adams Dunroath case. The party decided to vote against cloture.

COFFEE CROP OF CENTRAL AMERICA.

The coffee crop of Mexico and Central America enters largely into the consumption of the Pacific states and is becoming a more important item in our trade as every year adds to the growth of the coast. The San Francisco Evening Post has gathered the following information concerning the crop in the different states of Central America.

In 18[illegible] Costa Rica first began coffee planting, but not until 1830 was its culture marked by increased acreage. From that time to within two or three years ago progress was slow, but for the last three years it has had more attention. The great want of the country is better means of transportation, more capital and more labor. With these she would be one of the largest coffee producing countries of the world [illegible]

WEDNESDAY MORNING. MARCH 22, 1882

THE CHINESE BILL.

The house does not act so promptly on the bill to prohibit Chinese immigration as the senate did. Debate still drags its slow length along. Against the bill there is only the sentimental argument that every human being has the natural right to go where he pleases, live where he pleases, and adopt whatever political system may suit him best. But this is a fanciful right. It does not exist in fact. No nation ever allowed such principle. In regulating its own affairs each independent nation acts according to its conceptions of the policy proper for itself. It has the same right to exclude a people whom it deems unsuitable or undesirable as to perform any other act of national sovereignty. It is not a question of rightful power but of judicious policy. No nation permits itself, in practice, to indulge fanciful notions about the "brotherhood of man."

For exclusion of the Chinese there is sufficient argument in the fact that this people must ever be an alien race among us, while all others are readily absorbed into the body politic. No possible transformation can convert the Chinaman into an American citizen. Consequently he has no stake in our country or its institutions. He is not a supporter of any good cause among us. To educational, social, political and other obligations he is alike indifferent. Considerations of this kind nowhere touch him. Society finds nothing in him to build upon. He has vices which are injurious to the state, but no virtues to counterbalance them. His vices are a positive, his virtues a negative, quality.

And yet in a material point of view the presence of Chinese in our Pacific states has so far not been so injurious as many assert. True, Chinese labor has at times pressed with some severity upon a class of our own population. But the evil effects of this competition have always seemed to us greatly exaggerated. So far in our history, there has been small reason for any industrious person among us to be idle. There has been enough for all to do, the Chinese included. It is to be observed, too, that the Chinese among us have been chiefly employed in work which, without them, would have been left undone for years yet. Where would the labor have come from to build our railroads or clear our lands? The complaint, too, that they send the money they earn out of the country has little force. The money they earn is well represented by the permanent results of the labor they perform. If we limit our view of the case to its more material aspects, we shall find small reason to stop Chinese immigration for years yet to come. Their labor can be used, on the whole, with advantage to the country, till such time as immigration shall bring us a sufficient working population of a better class. Hence there will be no immediate enhancement of our material prosperity by stoppage of Chinese immigration. But undoubtedly if we suspend it there will soon be more attraction on this coast for working people from the east and from Europe, who will take the places of the Chinese in our industry, and become incorporated into the life of our system. Suspension of Chinese immigration may retard for some years great works now contemplated or in progress. Indeed this will almost certainly be the consequence. But all the interests of society are not involved in building and digging. These are well in their way, and even indispensable; but the state requires a more complex and higher organization than that supplied by the machine that runs on work of this description. We have said that we think the pressure of Chinese competition in the field of labor very much over-rated. Demagogues find here a most fruitful theme. It is easy to flatter the improvident with the suggestion that their want of prosperity is due to some cause outside of themselves. How many men are there among those who complain that they cannot compete with Chinese labor, who spend upon strong drink and in other vicious ways all the money they receive for their labor above the pittance of Chinese wages? There are many who, if they would look into it, would find that their own habits, rather than the competition of Chinese labor, are their great drawback. Take every Chinaman out of the land, and it will still be found that the working man has no resources except in his energy, sobriety and frugality, and that each individual, instead of depending for aid upon public legislation, must here legislate for himself. Little is the Chinaman as yet in the way of any man who is industrious and provident, who is content to spend his days in active employment and his evenings with his family, who does not allow scenes of dissipation to steal his time or swallow up his earnings, and who does not look for help to political demagogues who desire only to use a popular cry to advance themselves.

But the bill to suspend Chinese immigration ought to pass, because the Chinese are a people wholly impervious to our political and social ideas, because they and their descendants will ever be aliens among us, because their presence is a force that disturbs in many ways, and because the time will undoubtedly come, if the immigration be suffered to continue, when the Chinese will be here in such numbers as will threaten disaster to large classes of our working population. The house will certainly pass the bill. It is a wonder, indeed, that it has delayed action so long.

There is great outcry in all the agricultural parts of the country against watered stock and big dividends thereon. But the promoters of a scheme up the valley, professing to construct a railroad for "relief" of the country, offer in the east a bonus of 30 per cent. to purchasers of the bonds of the road, payable in capital stock, and then promise annual dividends "to exceed 20 per cent." Either the purchasers of the bonds will not get the promised dividends, exceeding 20 per cent., on the watered stock, or the public will be deceived in the promises of "relief." Or, what is more probable, the promises on both sides will fail. Western Oregon has been served for twelve years by railroads which have not paid above 2½ per cent. on the money actually expended in their construction. But the Hogg-Nash party are going to issue bonds and stock, give away 30 per cent. of the stock to get the bonds taken, and then pay above 20 per cent. in dividends, after interest on the bonds and all other charges are paid. Can any person see why a scheme of this nature, so manifestly resting on false representations, should not be characterized as it deserves? Then after the road is built it will terminate on the coast at a place wholly inaccessible to shipping—a place which is still a wilderness—and after it passes over the coast range of mountains, it will touch only the upper Willamette valley, where moreover, it will meet the competition of a navigable river and four lines of railroad. The promise of 20 per cent. dividends on its watered stock is harmless to the country in that it is never to be fulfilled, but extremely harmful in another sense, for the reason that those who furnish money on such promises will soon be prepared to join in the cry against all investments in Oregon.

Bradlaugh continues to be a thorn in the side of the house of commons and a source of irritation to the English people. Twice he was elected by large majorities to a seat in parliament and twice he has been refused the privileges of his election. Again he has been returned by an overwhelming vote and again he will apply for his seat, offering to take the oath and declaring that he will regard it as binding upon his conscience. It is now a question whether the English principle of justice will overcome the English repugnance to a bad and false man. Bradlaugh is undoubtedly a disreputable person and his presence is distasteful to the mass of the people, who despise the man and equally his precepts. It is felt that the sacred oath from his lips would be sacrilege and a lie. But in this dilemma, sentiment, good as it is, should give way to principle. Bradlaugh has been fairly and legally elected and he should be allowed to take his seat. The sin of a false oath is on his own head and he and not parliament will have to answer for it. The long fight over his case has only given Bradlaugh greater notoriety, and good policy as well as justice demands that his place be allowed him.

The mail brings the letter written by General Garfield to Secretary Chase concerning General Rosecrans and the slowness of the movements of the army of the Cumberland, which has caused so much discussion and comment. To Garfield's judgment and patriotism the letter is in every way highly creditable. It is a valuable historical document, as it throws additional light on the operations of the army of the Cumberland, shows how well-founded was the impatience of the country with the slowness and hesitation of Rosecrans, and how just was the order which finally relieved him and gave General Thomas the command. Yet the letter was written in no spirit of hostility to Rosecrans. It was simply the utterance of an earnest man demanding a more vigorous prosecution of the war and protesting against the excessive timidity, or want of energy that paralyzed for a long period the fine army of the Cumberland. The result of the inactivity against which Garfield made this earnest protest to Secretary Chase was concentration of the confederate forces, which could easily have been crushed in detail, and the bloody repulse at Chickamauga.

A Chicago railway paper has compiled very full statistics of railway construction during the past year. The figures confirm previous statements that the construction in 1881 was larger than in any other year on record. It included 258 lines of track, aggregating 8242 miles. In 1880, when there was constructed a larger mileage of track than in any year excepting 1871, the record was but 7174. Texas leads all the states and territories in which railway building was done last year, her record being 1411 miles. Five hundred miles of new road were built in Iowa. About 14 per cent. of all the tracks laid were the narrow gauge variety, and it is commented upon that the record of road building in the south was much less than was anticipated, and less, apparently, than the demand justified. Some of the leading roads of the country changed miles of their tracks during the year from the wide to the standard gauge, finding the latter preferable to the old broad tracks for many reasons.

The California supreme court has decided the law of that state prohibiting traffic on Sunday to be constitutional, and notice was given out last week that an effort would be made to enforce it, and that all saloon keepers, cigar dealers, etc., who did not "shut up shop" would be prosecuted. The telegraph brings information that this threat was disregarded; that last Sunday business was carried on as usual, and that in consequence several hundred complaints have been filed against offending parties. It is not probable that the penalty can be inflicted on offenders. There is not a decided and general public sentiment against Sunday business, as the fact that it finds patrons clearly indicates, and without it is, no law, not even the law against murder, can be enforced. Somewhere in the chain of prosecuting and court officials will be a man who does not want the law enforced and it will be in his power to spoil the serious efforts of others.

Receipts of lumber at Chicago during the year 1881 were 1,908,639,000 feet; of shingles, 866,075,000, and of lath, 104,449,000. Receipts of lumber in other forms, as posts, railroad ties and telegraph poles, were in like proportion. The whole value of the trade exceeded $40,000,000.

CITY.

INTIMIDATING WOMEN.—Early yesterday evening Mrs. Wiseman and a lady friend were walking about, when they noticed a man following them. About half past 7 they started for Mrs. Wiseman's residence on Alder street, where he still kept in their wake, at a distance of probably half a block. Thinking he meant mischief they determined to punish him, and accordingly turned their footsteps down Third street to Oak and then toward First street. When opposite the door of the city jail they suddenly confronted the man and told him he had followed them long enough. Capt. Belcher was sitting under the porch at the jail and arrested him. The man gave his name as Martin Partrich, said he was an Austrian and was just going to his room and did not want to be stopped. The captain, however, thought otherwise and gave him a free birth in the "corral," where he was last heard to tell some fellow victims of misplaced confidence and bad whisky that it seemed an Austrian was thought no more of in this country than an American.

THE NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS.—Of two plans offered by Architect Krumbein for the new school buildings the board of directors have chosen one, known as the Cleveland style—being a model of the Walton avenue building, which is adopted in all grammar schools of the Forest City. Both buildings will be exactly alike and each will cost a trifle over $50,000. The directors decided to have the upper stories ready for occupancy at the beginning of the new school year. Mr. Krumbein will have complete plans and specifications ready within two weeks, and proposals for contracts will then be invited.

NOT GUILTY.—Abe Tichnor was tried in Justice Petrain's court yesterday for assault and battery, which he was said to have committed on Jos. Kohn. A jury was demanded and furnished, which after a very strong dose of evidence and alleged intricate points in law, returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. There is still a counter charge of the same nature against Kohn, which will soon be tried.

FIRST BARGE LAUNCHED.—At 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, "No. One," the first of the Astoria Transportation Co.'s barges was launched at Astoria. Quite a crowd assembled to witness the event. She presents a very neat appearance in the water, and is a creditable looking craft. She is 42 feet wide, 172 feet long, and will carry 1000 tons of grain. Her cost was a little over $10,000.

WANTS A REVIEW.—An appeal for a review of the case of McDonald against Sinnot was yesterday filed in the county clerk's office. The case was first tried in Justice Phelan's court, in which Sinnot was the plaintiff and McDonald the defendant. The amount in question is $7.75, while the cost of a review will be about $150.

RUBBER COATS AND HATS.—Several pairs of rubber coats and hats have been ordered for members of the hose company of Multnomah, No. 2. They will arrive on the next steamer and will be placed near the hose carriage at all times, so that at an alarm, members who reach the house first are entitled to wear them.

TRAIN ARRIVED BY RIVER.—The barge Wyadchie with a locomotive and twenty cars, to be used in hauling dirt for filling the yards below Albina, arrived at Ainsworth dock from the Cascades last night. Her load will be towed down to the scene of work as soon as the track is laid.

ARRESTED AND LOCKED UP.—William McCain was last night arrested by policeman Barry, charged with assault and battery on Charles H. Smith. He as in most cases of this kind was the injured party—according to his story. Being unable to furnish bail he was locked up.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATIONS.—The regular teachers' public examinations will be held in Park building next Saturday, March 25, and Saturday, April 1, commencing each day at 9 A. M. Teachers requiring certificates during the next quarter are expected to be in attendance.

STEWART'S TROUBLES.—George Stewart, who was arrested Monday on a charge of malicious injury to personal property made by Amy Brinton, was tried in Justice Petrain's court yesterday. The matter was taken under advisement, and a finding will be returned to-day.

BRIEF MENTION.

Mr. H. Abrams of Oakland is in the city.

Sheridan and his talented company to-morrow night.

Every hotel and boarding-house in the city is crowded with guests.

Work on the new track of the First street railway is progressing rapidly.

The frame of Holladay's new building on the triangle in front of the Clarendon is up.

Nineteen hundred men are at work on the O. R. & N. Co.'s grade between East Portland and the Sandy river.

Will J. H. Knowlton, who arrived in Portland, January 22d, please send his present address to this office.

Charles Logus has commenced work on an addition to his frame business block on Fourth st. cor. near I.

Tenants for 800 dwellings, renting from $15 to $25 per month, could be secured in this city within twenty-four hours.

The appointment of Messrs. Hanks and Jeselman as special policemen of East Portland was confirmed by the board of trustees Monday evening.

The time for entering horses for two and three-year-old stakes of the Northwestern District Agricultural Association will expire April 1st.

The dwelling on Third street between Stark and Oak which was damaged by fire Monday night, was the property of E. Sherlock, not Levi White.

Edward Miller's condition was no worse yesterday. He retained consciousness during the day, and was resting as well as could be expected when last heard from.

The wife of Charles Frush, of East Portland, yesterday filed a declaration in the county clerk's office that she had bought lot 1 in block 160 in East Portland and would hereafter hold it as her property.

AMUSEMENTS.

The olio performance at New Market to-morrow night will be a collection of gems, among them Mr. Sheridan's unapproachable recitation "Eugene Aram's Dream." Friday evening the company appear at Vancouver, and return here for Saturday matinee. They will give two performances at The Dalles, Monday and Tuesday, the 27th and 28th, and three at Walla Walla, March 30th and 31st and April 1st.

THE WASCO TRAGEDY.

The Prineville News gives a version of the Wasco tragedy which is quite different in important particulars from that hitherto published. The version is as follows:

"A most atrocious and cowardly murder occurred on Wednesday week. [illegible] It appears that one J. A. Langdon had had some difficulty about a piece of land with two men [illegible] named Crooks and Jory. [illegible] Langdon met them at their work, and with a shotgun killed both men. Mr. Crooks was shot through [illegible] Jory was shot in the face [illegible]. The wives of the murdered men were looking on [illegible]. Word was brought to town [illegible], and Deputy Sheriff Powers, acting as coroner, and accompanied by several citizens, repaired to the place where the killing was done and found the bodies just as they had fallen when shot. [illegible] A jury was formed and the following verdict given:

"We, the jury empaneled to inquire into the cause of the death of M. H. Crooks and [illegible] Jory, find [illegible] that the deceased came to their death by gunshot wounds inflicted by Langdon."

The News says further that the man who led to the capture of Harrison who had been in the employ of Langdon was the [illegible], and states that he was accessory to the murder of Crooks and Jory. It says that Harrison, upon learning what Langdon had done, exclaimed: "Bully for him! He served them just about right." And these remarks were repeated before several, in the presence of the dead, and in hearing of the wails of the poor widows and children of the murdered men. The News adds this comment:

"In few words, we will say that at last patience has ceased to be a virtue. And forbearance in such cases shows only a timid nature. We have neither space nor desire to comment upon this affair. But it looks like there are men of determination and pluck in this state as well as in other places. Men who are not going to surrender the result of years of hard and honest labor to a few cut-throats and horse thieves. Desperate cases need desperate remedies and righteous anger is the most dangerous of all. It is a settled fact in the minds of many who have had facilities to learn these things, that Langdon had this thing all worked up, and made the concession in regard to the disputed land in order to have a better opportunity to kill his victims. He did this to get the unfortunate men back on that ground again, for they had quit the place, and would not have quarreled with him about the land, knowing him to be a dangerous man. In this event Wasco county has lost two as good, honest and industrious men as were to be found. And is rid of two, whose previous characters are not known to the writer, but who are better gone. Let men judge by their actions what they were."

Captain [illegible] of the engineer corps [illegible] states that the tunnel through [illegible] will be [illegible] feet, [illegible].

The contract for furnishing the brick for the Douglas county jail has been awarded to [illegible] at nine dollars a thousand. It is estimated that it will take from 75,000 to 100,000 brick. He will commence the job just as soon as the weather will permit.

The late rains raised the Umpqua river at [illegible] about ten feet above average winter stage. This was a great relief to the mill men [illegible] who feared that the mills would be short [illegible] early in the season. The freshet brought nearly two million feet from [illegible] river mill, [illegible] and [illegible] creek.

Lakeview Herald: Everybody is mad because everybody else is out of wood, and nobody can either buy, borrow, beg or steal. We do not believe, from the estimate already made, that there are a half dozen cords of wood, in the hands of all, within a mile of town; and, for this sufficient reason, the people of our little burg are all united in the opinion that they ought to be mad—the first occasion upon which it has been our pleasure to note their complete unison in anything since our residence here.

The water for the new water-works at Roseburg will be taken from Bowen's springs. The reservoir is to be 30 feet in diameter and 20 deep, and when completed will hold water sufficient to supply a four inch pipe for 10 hours. The water will be conducted down Washington street to Jackson street by means of a four inch pipe, and thence by small pipes throughout the various business parts of the city. The distance is about 4500 feet from Jackson street to the reservoir, which is 125 feet above the street, the pressure thus obtained being sufficient to throw water over any building in the city. That the water supply will be sufficient for the purpose of extinguishing fires is unquestioned, and with hydrants on each street corner and four or five pieces of 100 feet hose, Roseburg will have the best protection against fire of any town in the state outside of Portland and at comparatively small expense. The whole cost will probably not exceed $2000.

Washington Territory.

Grain is being sowed on the lowlands of Yakima county. Snow still lingers in the foot-hills.

Base ball is being resurrected; the Port Townsend club challenge the Chimacum club to play a game for $100 on the 5th of May.

There will be an Episcopal church building erected at Pomeroy this season. Walla Walla has contributed $50 for that purpose.

The contract for the labor of constructing a telegraph line from Port Discovery to Port Angeles has been let to Mr. S. Hadlock of Port Townsend, for the sum of $1500.

J. W. Pinkerton, superintendent of the Carbonado coal mines, has ordered that the saloon there be closed at 10 o'clock every night and remain closed all day Sunday. In consequence he finds his men fit to go to work Monday morning and tolerably fit for a day's work on other days.

The conveyances for the first sixteen days of the month of February, filed in the auditor's office of King county, numbered 129, and the conveyances for the first sixteen days of March numbered 195. There are at present 100 buildings in process of construction at Seattle.

Pataha prairie extends south 15 miles from Pomeroy and east about the same distance from Tucannon. It is described as a perfect garden spot. There are about ten thousand acres in cultivation now and all but a small per cent. of it is fine grain land. The average yield is about as follows per acre in bushels: Wheat, 30; barley, 60; oats, 75; potatoes, 150; corn, 30. Timothy grows well in the low places.

Palouse Gazette: Gen. Tannatt, of the O. I. Co., came up last Friday and paid into the county treasury the sum of $4,964 20, assessed as taxes against the company's property. The sum was paid under protest, the company claiming that the lands are not taxable for the reason that the government has given no clear title to the lands. The matter will probably be settled at the next term of court.

A well informed resident of White river states that a few years more that valley will be one immense hop field. Last year the yield of hops was surprising, in one instance the crop harvested from six acres was nine tons or 1½ tons to the acre. The most of the farmers are enlarging their hop yards, as it has been demonstrated that hops will pay better than any other crop that can be raised in the valley; that is to say, if prices are anything like they have been in the past.

Due notice of the opening of the new store will be given to the public.

In the effort to blacken the reputation of President Garfield, the stalwarts and the democratic press have been drawn very closely together. Guiteau's work is being ably seconded by the combination.—Chicago Tribune.

A woman has just walked with an infant in her arms from Philadelphia to Chicago. As there were no outstanding bets on her and no gate money, she had to go to the work house.

The city of Oshkosh, located on Lake Winnebago, Wisconsin, where lumber is handy, is becoming a big city. It makes more sash, doors and blinds than any other town in the country, and claims to produce one-tenth of the whole, has the biggest carriage factory in the northwest, and thinks its total manufactures last year approximated $15,000,000.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

[illegible]

[illegible] $10 000 is subscribed

The production of butter [illegible] now [illegible] pounds annual [illegible] in the state [illegible] has been 40 per cent

[illegible] of Georgetown S. C. has [illegible] plantation [illegible] fare [illegible] the [illegible] admiralty

The contract has been let for the [illegible] press [illegible] factory [illegible] at Ottawa [illegible] and which will give employment to 100 men [illegible] parties investing are not Ottawa men

Chicago parties are negotiating for land near Michigan City [illegible] for building purposes [illegible] company will employ from [illegible] 100 persons

According to the census office there were [illegible] persons engaged in the oyster [illegible] in 1880 [illegible] during the year there were [illegible] bushels [illegible] value [illegible] The [illegible] has increased from $5 000 in 1854 [illegible]

The American Palmetto Paper and Pulp Company whose works are located at Valley Forge Pa now have on hand in [illegible] 1330 bales [illegible] averaging 400 pounds to the bale making an aggregate of 100 000 pounds of raw material The company pays eight dollars per bale for the palmetto

The Standard Oil monopoly is a good thing. It belongs to two or three persons one of whom was a few years ago a penniless English artisan Its capital stock is $3 500 000 On that sum in eight years there have been declared dividends of $10 4[illegible] and there is a surplus fund of $35 000 000 not yet divided

The great Sibley cotton manufactory at Augusta Ga the cost of which with its machinery was over $500 000 was completed on the 2[illegible] ultimo and the next day went into regular operation giving employment to several hundred hands It is one of the finest factories in the country and its product will compare with the best

The Hudson River Water Power and Manufacturing Company, owning a valuable site on the Hudson between Mechanicsville and Stillwater will soon commence the construction of a dam one thousand feet long and sixteen high, to furnish 20 000 horse power It will also erect a large paper mill fitted with facilities for the manufacture of fifteen tons of book paper a day The water power will be utilized on both sides of the river

Some notion of the prosperity of southern cities may be gathered from the following Richmond Va population 63 000 has a total property value of $40 000 000 and its 675 manufactories have a capital of $11 000 000 The product last year—largely iron and tobacco—amounted to $30 000 000 against $24 000 000 in 1880 Columbus Ga. with a population of only 7[illegible] last year increased its assessment by $471 000 and its business by $696 000 Augusta Ga has six cotton mills with $4 000 000 capital and 1[illegible] 000 spindles and are all making money

OHIO REPUBLICANS INDIGNANT

Conkling's Nomination Causing Trouble for the Party in Garfield's State

[Special to the New York Times]

CLEVELAND March 5 — The administration of President Arthur was accepted in this radical republican district on the basis of much unspoken hope The Albany visit of the vice-president was forgiven in the manly course of that officer when Garfield was shot and when Arthur took possession of the presidency there was not one man in each hundred of northern Ohio republicans disposed to throw a pebble in his way or hold him responsible for anything that occurred before he took the presidential oath The past was blotted out and there was great hope for the future As time went on and the president showed a cool and calm intention to his own to do all things in order and at his own time the hope was strengthened that he had come into office intending to be a leader of the whole republican party and not the partisan of a faction The nomination of Folger was accepted as proper as the people had come to look upon him as a good man for the place There was some uneasiness as the other cabinet appointments were made, and when Mr Howe was finally proposed a few mutterings of distrust were heard When at last Mr Conkling was nominated to the supreme bench the feeling that had been held down in fast decreasing hope burst forth and the move was almost universally denounced The part taken by Mr Conkling in the fight on Robinson had so identified Conkling with what came afterward that the people right or wrong cannot disassociate his name from connection with it and they had come to look upon his elevation by the administration to any position of power as a notification to the country that Conkling sm was to be one of the great powers underlying the administration Nine out of ten republicans were hurt and indignant, and such expressions of favor as have been heard have come either from the politicians or from such newspapers as have political ends to serve One Ohio editor has a postoffice and approves the nomination Another has just had a brother in law appointed to a large postoffice and he approves it Another has a son in law connected with an important legation and an associate editor from his paper in a consulship and he approves it The only republican newspaper in Garfield's congressional district that has not denounced it is edited by a man engaged at present in Washington as clerk of a special committee

The result upon the coming state election would be hard to predict Much depends on the course of the president in the next four months The people care little because Ohio men are not appointed but find significance in the fact that so far the enemies of Garfield have had the chief honors They have a habit of remaining at home on certain occasions and already the democrats are claiming that the elevation of Conkling has given them the state The assumption that this nomination will take Conkling out of politics has little weight for the feeling here is that a principle is involved and that any recognition of Conkling by the president or party gives him that which he, of all men should not have The best friends of the republican party of Ohio are examining the situation with no little anxiety

DIPHTHERIA!

REMEMBER THIS—THAT IT IS POSITIVELY worse than murder to allow any case [illegible] fatal without trying McCLELLAN'S DIPHTHERIA AND FEVER REMEDIES. They will positively cure, even after all else has failed. No preparation on earth can equal these remedies for Throat or Troubles or Fevers of all kinds.

The Diphtheria Remedy alone is a sure preventive and certain to stop its spread. It acts like magic in Croup and Whooping Cough. It will cure any Sore Throat. They are used [illegible] Any druggist can get them for you at HODGE, DAVIS & CO., Wholesale Drug House, Portland Oregon.
